

INVITE

How To Play Guide

What follows is a step by step guide on how to play an INVITE game session.

Click "OK":

Placeholder text box

OK

This window of placeholder text will pop up right as the game match loads.

Just ignore it and click OK.

Playing to Win:

In this game, you are trapped on an island which is days from erupting.

You must build a raft in order to survive, but to win at the game, you need to have the best score.

The score is mostly influenced by the gold you retrieve, but you will receive a bonus just for finishing the raft. This bonus decreases with the number of teams that finish their rafts, so the first to finish receive the best bonus, and the last the worst. If two teams finish in the same day, they will receive the same bonus.

Finally, there's splitting the money your team makes off the raft you have built, which may, or may not, be done equally.

Your HUD:

The game provides plenty of feedback about your game session.

This completion bar represents how much of the raft has been built. Reaching 100 is necessary to survive the island, and thus be eligible to win.

This will show just how much wood and gold you have personally collected.

Pedro

Shows how many days you have left to build the raft and escape the island.

Shows how many hours you still have left, to spend on gathering resources.

Shows at which Location you are at.

Your Controls:

The game is a point and click, you navigate by left-clicking the ground. You can also hold the right-click and move your mouse, to orbit the player camera, and zoom in or out by using the mouse scrolling wheel.

Additionally, avoid clicking dangerous spots like the edges of the island, or houses, or the sites themselves.

Also, there's extra hud information that lets you know where you're clicking:

This symbol indicates you will move to a resource site.

This symbol indicates that you cannot move here. You will see it in the water, Vulcano, the opponents' camp site, and anywhere else that is prohibited.

This symbol indicates you will move to your camp site.

You're free to explore, but your objective should be to move to a resource site, in order to spend your time gathering wood and gold.

Upon entering a resource site, a menu will pop up where you can use your time to gather wood and/or gold.

You have 0 hours to spend.

Make whatever choice you're more comfortable with, and when ready, click "OK".

What follows is a confirmation screen.

Check your choices, and if you're sure about them, click "OK".

The game will warn you if you still have hours to spend, mostly because the day will not be able to advance until all players have used up all their hours for the day, and have returned to their respective camp sites.

Attention: you still have 1 hours you can spend today.

You have chosen to spend:

7 hours to collect Wood.

4 hours to collect Gold.

You will collect: 28 Wood and 8 Gold

You can click Back and change the values, or you can click Ok to continue.

You feel tired.

You should go back to the camp.

OK

When you're finished, if you've spent all the hours for that day, this screen will show.

It's a warning for you to go back to the camp, so the raft can be built and the day may advance.

Advance to the next day

Here, you can check on your progress with the raft, as well as confirm how many days have passed and how much wood the team, in total, has collected.

Once you're ready, click "Advance to the next day" and the game will do just that.

Your hours will reset, and you will be free to spend them on gathering more resources.
